2 Customising chrome

If you have more than one Google account (for example if you use a shared computer), you can customise chrome so that each google account has its own profile. The bookmarks are saved on each profile and the google account does not default back to the original account. The profile is synced across devices.

3 Log into chrome using your google account.

You see two icons. The lower one indicates which ACCOUNT you are in. The upper one indicates which PROFILE you are using.

4 Uses of profiles:

If you have one gmail account, you might want to have a different profile for personal use, bridge lessons, work and secure use. Or if you have more than one gmail account you might want to create a profile for each account.

5 Creating a new chrome profile:

- i) Click on the profile icon to bring up a dropdown menu:

6 Adding bookmarks:

When you create a profile, there are no bookmarks:

Open a tab and click on the star to add the open tab as a bookmark. Repeat for any other tabs you want to bookmark.

Next time you open the profile, your bookmarks are there

Customising chrome

You can choose a background for your profile – click on customise and select a picture.

Your new chosen background:

Now you can sign into your EBS account anywhere, from any computer and your own bookmarks and settings will be there for you. Any existing personal Gmail account will have separate settings and you can switch between accounts when you need to.
